Cisco Unified IP Phone Document Organization

The Cisco Unified IP Phone series, such as for the Cisco Unified IP Phone 7900 Series, are shown under the following tabs that you can see on the left side of the website:

- General Information Documents, page 3
- Reference Guides > Technical References, page 4
- Design > Design Guides, page 4
- Install and Upgrade > Install and Upgrade Guides, page 4
- Configure Guides > Programming Guides, page 5
- Maintain and Operate Guides > End-User Guides, page 5
- Maintain and Operate > Maintain and Operate Guides, page 8
- Training Resources, page 9
- Translated Documents, page 9

If no documents exist that would fall under a particular category, you will not see the tab on the left side of the website. Also, some of the documents within these categories are maintained by other groups, such as Marketing and Customer Advocacy, such as the troubleshooting tech notes under Troubleshoot and Alerts.

This documentation guide focuses on the Cisco Unified IP Phone user documents that Cisco Technical Documentation produces.

The guides are listed here in the order of the tabs shown above.
